Chair Cabaniss called the meeting to order at 8:00 a.m. and a quorum was present. He reminded all members of their duty to avoid conflicts of interest and any appearance of conflicts of interest under the State Government Ethics Act and inquired as to whether there were any known conflicts of interest or appearances of conflict with respect to any matters coming before the board at this meeting. Chair Cabaniss reminded those in attendance that while the full Board meeting is a public meeting, it is not a meeting for public comment and only those on the agenda will be permitted to speak.

Chair Cabaniss issued a charge to the Trustees encouraging discussion regarding the results of the self-assessment survey. Chancellor Woodson introduced the facilitator, Joanne Soliday, and presenter of the self-assessment survey results, Nancy Whelchel.

The board engaged in a facilitated activity designed for Trustees to learn more about each other. The results of the self-assessment survey were presented, and the facilitator outlined the top 3 areas identified in the survey: orientation to board service, education (knowledge of), and communication.

Orientation to Board Service
The volume of information and how this information is presented during a new member orientation should be reconsidered. Important information can be summarized in small portions and mini-orientations (or refreshers) would be helpful to current Trustees. A mentor-mentee program for Trustees was suggested as well as learning more about the differences between the board of trustees, board of governors and their respective powers.

Education (Knowledge of)
Several topics of interest related to education in general and specifically, higher education, were presented, including: ROI on MBAs, digital cheating, lessons learned from the pandemic, adult education and life-long learning strategies, community engagement, and student success and development.
Communication
The board commended the Chancellor for keeping them abreast of the positive and not-so-positive news. The pandemic made communications “top of mind” for many and Trustees appreciated the consistent messaging with the university community. Having more retreats or opportunities for discussion at board meetings should be considered, but there is acknowledgement of the balance of allotted time and public meeting requirements. Trustees should consider attending committee agenda review meetings to receive more context for committee meetings, projects and issues that may come before them.

A brief conversation regarding standing committee structure occurred. No changes were suggested at this time. Joanne Soliday complimented the Board of Trustees and the administration on a very positive self-assessment and noted the same levels of effectiveness desired by both.

CLOSED SESSION
With no further business in open session, Assistant Secretary Gentius read the motion, seconded by Trustee Kelly, at 10:52 a.m. to go into closed session to consider the qualifications, competence, performance, character, fitness, conditions of appointment, or conditions of employment of a public officer or employee.

RECONVENE IN OPEN SESSION
At 11:05 a.m. the board came out of closed session. With no further business in open session, Chair Cabaniss adjourned the meeting at 11:06 a.m.
