Four bright NC State students were recently announced as Goldwater Scholars. This is a highly competitive scholarship as it is only awarded to 496 STEM major sophomores and juniors. It provides each of the students with a monetary award of $7,500 per academic year. The awardees were Rachel Chen (Statistics major), Nikhil Milind (Genetics and Computer Science double major), Sofia Uzsoy (Physics and Computer Science double major) and Neil Baugh (Material Sciences and Engineering major). By receiving the Goldwater Award, the other awardees will be able to dedicate even more time to research in the lab and pursue innovative solutions to real world challenges.

College of Veterinary Medicine's New International Partnership

The College of Veterinary Medicine recently announced a new and exciting partnership. Their Global Health Program will be collaborating with the Institut Pasteur Dakar in Senegal. They hope to advance infectious disease research in Western Africa beyond the scope of Zika and other widely researched diseases. Both sides of the partnership are hopeful that they can create scientific advances that could be incredibly impactful for the health of people and animals in West Africa.

Design Wins Big

NC State students and faculty from the Department of Landscape Architecture won a significant number of awards at the Southeast regional ASLA Awards. The fellowship program recognizes outstanding graduate students in NSF-supported science, technology, engineering and mathematics disciplines who are pursuing research-based masters and doctoral degrees.

Benjamin A. Gilman International Scholarships were awarded to 13 NC State students during the 2018-19 academic year. The program provides scholarships to students of limited financial means to study or intern abroad. NC State students received a combined total of $46,700 in scholarship support for the 2018-18 year.

Global Grand Challenges Summit

An innovative team of five NC State students will present their business model at the Global Grand Challenges Summit in London later this year. The team is comprised of: Silvana Alfieri, a senior double majoring in Environmental Engineering and Environmental Policy; Rachel Figard, a junior majoring in Industrial and Systems Engineering; Pippin Payne, a senior majoring in Mechanical Engineering and Religious Studies; Kevin Duke, a junior majoring in Civil Engineering; and Grant Jordan, a junior majoring in Industrial and Systems Engineering. Their business is called Peak Coffee Processing and promotes an affordable treatment to filter coffee production wastewater into clean water that can then be used by the coffee growers to increase crop yield and reduce topsoil erosion. They were selected from 50 teams to present their project at the competitive summit hosted by the National Academy of Engineering, the United Kingdom's Royal Academy of Engineering and the Chinese Academy of Engineering.

Sustainability and Sports

NC State and the Green Sports Alliance hosted the first annual ACC Sports Sustainability Conference last month. Members from the ACC met in Raleigh to discuss sustainability options for practice facilities, athletic events and guidelines for purchasing environmentally friendly products. They also discussed how get athletes and fans more engaged with sustainability efforts at events in order to reduce pollution. The event concluded with a collaborative brainstorming session to plan for future ACC Sports sustainability efforts. The conference came right on the heels of NC State's Zero Waste Wolfpack program being named the Green Sports Alliance Environmental Innovator of the Year. The award was presented on June 19 and recognizes the success of the program. When the program was started in 2015, the waste diversion percentage at Carter-Finley was only 15% but by 2018 that number was up to 44%.

University Advancement and External Relations Committee
Board of Trustees
North Carolina State University
April 18, 2019

Open Session Minutes

The University Advancement Committee of the Board of Trustees of North Carolina State University met in Open Session at 1:15 p.m. in the Chancellor's Conference Room in Holladay Hall.

Chair Kelly called the session to order and read the State of North Carolina's Government Ethics Act.

Chair Kelly called roll then presented the consent agenda and the minutes from the February 21, 2019 meeting, which were approved. He then asked Vice Chancellor Brian Sischo to provide a University Advancement update. Brian shared that our inaugural Day of Giving was an unqualified success, bringing in a total of $13.6 million dollars from nearly 11 thousand donors. Gifts came in from 47 states, 95 of North Carolina's 100 counties and 17 countries. Notably, most gifts were made by first time donors, the average gift amount was $236 dollars, and the class that made the most gifts was the class of 2018. Brian pointed out there was lots of friendly competition right up until the end, including deans making phone calls and results being posted on social media in real time. Brian congratulated Director of Special Projects and Fundraising Initiatives and Interim Director of Annual Giving Adam Compton for his incredible work in leading this project. He then stated that a debriefing is already scheduled and that the team will immediately begin gearing up for next year.

Brian then gave an update on the University Advancement Roadmapping Project, noting that at the core is addressing the organizational structure of Advancement at NC State. He also shared that he has worked with the Provost to form a Deans Task Force to partner with University Advancement leadership to advise on implementation of the plan. Additionally, he noted that the entire University Advancement staff is gathering next week to provide input and to help prioritize next steps.

Moving on to the campaign, Brian noted that we are on the cusp of reaching $1.5 billion of the $1.6 billion goal, just in time for the kick off of the mid-campaign feasibility study. The feasibility study will take a strategic look at where we are in the campaign; where we're headed; the Chancellor's idea of a "mini-campaign" within this campaign; and will also help us factor where we go in terms of a new goal.

Brian concluded his University Advancement update by pointing out that the successes of the Talent Management office have resulted in more consistency and efficiency in recruitment and retention of staff. He then noted that the recent Pullen Society luncheon included the largest number of new inductees in its history, and that he and the Chancellor had recently returned from a successful number of visits and events with key constituents and alumni on the West Coast.

Next, Jim Broschart presented a campaign and fundraising update, stating that the campaign total stands at $1.47 billion, which has us at 92% of the goal with 68% of the campaign time period elapsed, and that if we continue at the current rate, we should reach our $1.6 billion goal near the end of November. With that in mind, everyone is now energized to reach the goal by Red & White Night, which is November 9. Jim then shared that we've realized a 60% increase in donations to Annual Giving, with $1.6 million more dollars year-to-date, thanks largely to Day of Giving. He also pointed out that year-to-date gifts and new commitments stand at over $158 million, which represents a 24% increase over last year at this time. Jim went on to point out that Day of Giving helped us to raise money more broadly, which is an area that generally proves to be a challenge.

Jim then addressed Active Management Protocol (AMP), which are metrics used to measure gift officer visits and donor contacts. Jim noted that AMP is a good sales management tool which also helps with closing gifts, as it forces communication and emphasizes engagement. Touching on the upcoming mid-campaign feasibility study, Jim shared that we have contracted with the firm of Washburn & McGoldrick to conduct the study. Interviews are kicking off in the next couple of weeks and reports and recommendations will be shared with the University Advancement leadership team in August.

Brad Bohlander provided a University Communications and Marketing update, pointing out that University Communications and Marketing's focus is to lead and assist, recognizing the need to take on ownership to ensure that the communications departments in all of the colleges and units have guidance and support. He shared information on the role of his unit in the success of Day of Giving and the excitement of the real-time updates that his team provided throughout the 24-hour period. Brad pointed out that the Day of Giving strategy was to rely on teamwork and to frontload the work. The result was #GivingPack trending number one social media in the Triangle for the day with over four thousand uses. He then shared that our web, digital and social media clicks are continuing to increase exponentially, with our homepage getting over 10 million visitors last year and nearly 700 thousand followers across Facebook, Twitter, Instagram and LinkedIn. Brad concluded by noting that we would have to spend $40 million in advertising cost if we had to pay outside entities for the media presence we produce in-house.

Jim Broschart returned to present two naming opportunity proposals, including one naming opportunity for a front pathway at the Gregg Museum of Art and Design and ten naming opportunities from the College of Agriculture and Life Sciences for ten exterior features in front of the new Plant Sciences Building.

In closed session, the minutes from the February, 21, 2019 meeting were approved. Four donor naming proposals were presented, one of which involved the Chair, who recused himself during the discussion of his naming. The motion carried to present all of the namings to the full board for approval. After motions to return to open session, with no further business, the meeting adjourned at 2:54pm.

Respectfully submitted,

Stan Kelly
Chair

I. Justification for New Delivery Mode

1. Description and Purpose.

- a. Provide a 250-word or less description of the proposed program, including target audience, delivery method, hours required, program core and concentrations (if applicable), opportunities for which graduates will be prepared, and other special features. For online programs, describe whether the delivery is synchronous with an on-campus course, partially synchronous, asynchronous, other, and using what platform(s).

Demand for master's degrees in management is shifting away from the MBA toward specialized master's degrees in management. NC State offers two such degrees: the Master of Accounting and the Master of Management with a concentration in Global Luxury Management. A proposal to offer the Master of Accounting degree online is under review; this proposal asks to create an online option for the Master of Management.

The proposed online Master of Management degree would target working professionals with little to no work experience who seek to advance their careers. These are individuals who either lack the business background for the MBA or prefer to take a more targeted degree that requires fewer credit hours.

The proposed online degree would require 30 credit hours built around existing and to-be-developed certificate programs in the Poole College of Management. Currently there are certificates in entrepreneurship, finance, marketing and supply chain management. We anticipate adding certificates in business analytics and leadership by fall 2020. Students will be able to design an academic program that meets their needs, using the certificates as building blocks.

This modular curriculum provides the opportunity to concentrate in areas such as business analytics, entrepreneurship and innovation, and supply chain management. This would prepare the graduates for positions such as business analysts, consultants, and purchasing managers.

The program would be delivered entirely online with most of the instruction provided in an asynchronous manner. This model has been used very successfully in the NC State Online MBA program, ranked in the top 20 online programs globally by the Financial Times in 2018. Lectures would be taped to be watched asynchronously, accompanied by discussion boards and online office hours.

- b. How does the proposed delivery mode align with system, institutional and unit missions and strategic plans?

The program aligns with NC State's five strategic goals:

Enhance student success: The online format will provide greater access to personal and professional development opportunities.

Invest in faculty: Expanded opportunities to engage with graduate students will allow us to attract and retain research-oriented faculty and expand existing skills.

Support interdisciplinary scholarship: N/A

Pursue organizational excellence: The online courses will provide students flexibility to complete either online and/or campus course format. Most of the courses are already being offered online for the MBA program. Our plan is to offer more sections each year to accommodate the online Master of Management students.

Engage locally and globally: An online program will allow access to working professionals in the Research Triangle, national and global community who are looking to advance their education while continuing employment, which should be valuable to many regional, national and global companies.

It also aligns with UNC System goals:

Access: The online program would greatly improve access by making NC State's Master of Management available throughout the state.

Affordability and efficiency: NC State's online MBA program is among the nation's most affordable ranked online programs, with the lowest tuition of any of the top ten programs in the US as ranked by Princeton Review. The online Master of Management degree would leverage course development investments already made for the MBA.

Economic impact and community engagement: The new online degree will help prepare the next generation of civic leaders and shape the state's future workforce. It will bring affordable and excellent management training to all corners of the state.

Excellent and diverse institutions: NC State and UNC Charlotte are the only institutions in the UNC System offering a Master in Management degree. The UNC Charlotte degree is a full-time, one-year program. This proposal will provide differentiated graduate programs in management to the state.

Student success: see above

2. Student demand. Provide documentation of student demand for the new delivery mode. Directly address the extent to which students will be drawn from a pool of students not previously served by the existing program.

The Graduate Management Admissions Council tracks applications to graduate management programs around the world. Applications to one-year graduate management degrees has been growing rapidly over the last ten years, whereas applications have declined for traditional two-year full-time MBA programs. According to the GMAC's annual Application Trends Survey Report, demand for one-year Masters of Management degrees has been growing because such degrees require a shorter period out of the labor force and do not require as much additional borrowing for a generation already carrying heavy student debt loads.

NC State's Poole College of Management lags behind its business school peers in terms of its offerings of one-year management degrees. NC State has two such programs (Master of Accounting and Master of Management), whereas 12 of the 19 schools (i.e., give a few examples) examined had five or more one-year management programs. The following concentration options have been especially popular at peer schools: business analytics, finance, management information systems, marketing and supply chain management.

A benchmarking study conducted for the Poole College of Management by Hanover Research in spring 2018 showed that there was growing interest in programs offering the opportunity to concentrate in business analytics (24% enrollment increase nationwide between 2012-16), supply chain management (9%) and sustainability (19%).

This proposed program will not draw any students from the existing concentration area in the Master of Management degree. The Global Luxury and Management concentration students take a 10-month full-time, face-to-face course of study, spending one semester at NC State and one semester at Skema Business School in Paris. This concentration will not be made available online.

3. Unnecessary duplication. List similar programs offered by other North Carolina institutions (public or private), including enrollments and delivery method. In cases where other UNC institutions provide similar online, site-based distance education, or off-campus programs, include evidence regarding how the proposed program meets unmet need. Discuss collaborative opportunities with these programs.

The Master of Management degree is not offered online by any other school in the state. Here is a list of comparable programs at other North Carolina institutions:

University	Degree program	Delivery mode	Enrollment
Duke University	Master of Management Studies	Face-to-face	131
Elon University	MS in Management	Face-to-face	25
UNC Charlotte	Master in Management	Face-to-face	New program
Wake Forest	Masters in Management	Face-to-face	113

4. Enrollment. Estimate the total number of students that would be enrolled in the program during the first year of operation and in each delivery mode (campus, online, site - add lines as needed):

Delivery Mode: campus _____ Full-Time ____ 50 ____ Part-Time ____ 0 ____
Delivery Mode: online _____ Full-Time ____ 0 ____ Part-Time ____ 20 ____

Estimate the total number of students that would be enrolled in the program during the fourth year of operation and in each delivery mode (campus, online, site - add lines as needed):

Delivery Mode: campus _____ Full-Time ____ 50 ____ Part-Time ____ 0 ____
Delivery Mode: online _____ Full-Time ____ 0 ____ Part-Time ____ 50 ____

5. Resources.

- a. Are new faculty, staff, library, facility/equipment, or other resources required to deliver the program? If so, explain the need and, using the template provided, estimate the costs and sources of funds to provide resources needed.

The online Master of Management degree would leverage existing online courses offered to MBA and graduate certificate students. In the initial year the anticipation is that the 20 new students would fill seats in existing sections. No new faculty would be needed. Graders and section managers would be hired to support larger class sizes.

There would be a need for admissions staff and marketing support to grow enrollment. Graduate management education in this region is highly competitive. Duke, Elon, and Wake Forest already have Master of Management programs. MBA advising staff would be able to manage the additional Master of Management enrollment in year one.

By year four enrollment growth would dictate a need for faculty and additional EHRA staff in career resources and academic advising.

Enrollment growth funding and premium tuition would provide the resources needed for the Master of Management online degree. In-state masters II students generate $533.82 per credit hour in state funding and would pay $692.00 in premium tuition, for a total of $1225.82 per credit hour.

With 20 students enrolled in fall 2020 and spring 2021 and each taking nine credit hours per academic year, the Master of Management program would generate $172,604 ($124,560 from premium tuition and $48,044 from enrollment growth funding). In fall 2023 and spring 2024, the program would generate $551,619 in resources.

The table below lays out the revenue and program costs by year:

	2020-2021	2021-2022	2022-2023	2023-2024
Enrollment	20	30	40	50
Credit hours per student	9	9	9	9
Revenue	$172,604	$285,906	$345,208	$431,510

Faculty	0	$105,906	$125,208	$211,510
EHRA Staff and instructional support	$80,000	$80,000	$120,000	$120,000
Operating	$92,604	$100,000	$100,000	$100,000

- b. Discuss how the new delivery mode will impact the workload of existing faculty.

Faculty workloads will not be adversely impacted. In year one the additional enrollment will be absorbed into existing sections. Graders and section managers will be used to manage the extra enrollment. In later years, there would be the financial resources to add faculty, both tenure-track and teaching professors.

- c. (site-based distance education and off-campus delivery only) If the institution has not previously delivered a degree program at this site, briefly describe the facilities, infrastructure, and arrangements and how they meet the needs of the program.

Not applicable.

6. Delivery Considerations. Provide assurances of the following (not to exceed 250 words per lettered item):

- a) Access (all programs). Students have access to academic support services comparable to services provided to on-campus students and appropriate to support the program, including admissions, financial aid, academic advising, delivery of course materials, and placement and counseling.

Similar to the campus program the online program will charge a premium tuition to support admissions, financial aid, academic advising, delivery of course materials, and career services. Services will be provided through multiple mediums – online, email, phone calls, in-person and virtual technology (e.g., Google Hangout). The existing infrastructure will be used as a platform to provide the services.

- b) Curriculum delivery (online and site-based distance education only). The distance education technology to be used is appropriate to the nature and objectives of the program. The content, methods and technology for each online course provide for adequate interaction between instructor and students and among students.

The department and college have invested over $300,000 in building a new classroom capture room to use for online courses offered in the campus and online MBA and MAC programs. In addition to state-of-the-art technology, the program plans to leverage existing course and faculty experiences with the online MBA program. Faculty will engage with students using the features of the technology – discussion forums,

Request to Deliver
Last updated 1/12/16

synchronous help sessions and virtual communication methods. Additionally, faculty will be available for in-person meetings, phone calls and email exchange.

- c) Faculty development (online and site-based distance education only). Faculty engaged in program delivery receive training appropriate to the distance education technologies and techniques used.

The Poole College of Management currently provides instructional design support to faculty developing and offering online courses for the MAC and MBA programs. This would continue for the online Master of Management. The college now has a policy that requires online faculty to periodically update their technology-based teaching skills. A number of faculty also have experience with delivering online courses through the MBA program. The funds from the premium tuition will be allocated to support course and faculty development.

- d) Security (online and site-based distance education only). The institution authenticates and verifies the identity of students and their work to assure academic honesty/integrity. The institution assures the security of personal/private information of students enrolled in online courses.

NC State University's information technology provides state-of-the-art infrastructure to protect the privacy and confidentiality of faculty and student information. Secure web-based Duo authentication is mandatory to access NC State's internet services available to students and faculty. All students and faculty are required to use their campus user name and password to log into Moodle to verify their identities. A wide range of tools and approaches will be adopted to ensure the integrity of the online course offerings including:

- Using proctoring services to ensure integrity of class assignments.
- Using software tools such as Proctorio to limit students' access to supporting materials and extra resources during exams.
- Educating students about the academic integrity and the consequences if academic integrity is violated.

7. Contact. Provide the name, title, email address, and phone number of the person(s) responsible for planning this proposed program.

In this proposal, we address the change in name for Bachelor of Science degree (Plan). Other forthcoming proposals address name changes in the concentrations (subplan).

Justification: The Department of Crop and Soil Sciences proposes a name change for our Bachelor of Science in Plant and Soil Sciences. The name change is requested to better align the degree title with the departmental name that resulted from a realignment in the College of Agriculture and Life Sciences. This realignment led to the merger of two separate departments into the Department of Crop and Soil Sciences. The proposed name change will be reflected on future transcripts, which will convey to employers of our alumni a connectivity between the graduate and the international reputation of our department.

Impact on the Classification: The name change will not affect the CIP Code (01.1102).

Impact on Other Programs: Changing the word "Plant" to "Crop" draws a more clear distinction between our degree program and the Bachelor of Science in Plant Biology. Both programs will benefit from this change.

Impact on Current Students: Current students will not be impacted in completing their degrees.

Our proposed changes are as follows:

Name Change

Current Plan Title: Plant and Soil Sciences
Current SIS Code: 11PSSBS

Proposed Plan Title: Crop and Soil Sciences
Proposed SIS Code: 11CSSCBS
Proposed Effective Date: August 1, 2019 (Term: 2198)

Re: Discontinuing the Bachelor of Science in Soil and Land Development

Justification: The Department of Crop and Soil Sciences requests the discontinuation of the Soil and Land Development plan (11SLD) and its two subplans, Land Development (11SLDBS-11SLDLDEV) and Soil Science (11SLDBS-11SLDSSCI). The structure of the Soil and Land Development – Land Development subplan was merged with the Natural Resources – Soil and Water Systems subplan to create a new Natural Resources – Soil, Water, and Land Use subplan. The structure of the Soil and Land Development – Soil Science subplan was merged with the Plant and Soil Sciences – Soil Science subplan. The merging of the subplans was approved in September 2018 actions.

Impact on the Classification: The discontinuation will result in CIP Code 01.1299 no longer being needed.

Impact on Other Programs: Other programs will not be affected by this change.

Impact on Future Students: Effective immediately, the Department requests the university cease admitting students into the Agronomic Science subplan as freshman or transfers. We also ask it be removed immediately as an option for CODA.

Impact on Current Students: Currently, three students are enrolled in the Soil and Land Development plan. The students will be given the opportunity to switch into the revised Natural Resources – Soil, Water, and Land Use subplan. Alternatively, the students will have until June 2024 (Term: 2246) to complete the Soil and Land development degree. Come Term 2246, if the students have not completed their degree, they will be moved into Natural Resources – Soil, Water, and Land Use.

Proposed Effective Date: July 1, 2019 (Term: 2197)

2. Explain why the program, site, or delivery mode is being discontinued.
- a. If the program, site or delivery mode addresses high priority needs, how will those needs be addressed by other programs?

Program has been merged with our Natural Resources plan (11NATRLBS) to create a more robust Soil and Water Systems subplan (11NATRLBS-11NATRNRW). The revised subplan is being renamed Soil, Water, and Land Use.
  - b. Describe how affected parties (faculty, staff, students) will be informed of the impending closure and, where applicable, of any additional charges/expenses to students.

Faculty have met and discussed the pending discontinuation resulting from the NR/SLD merger. Students will meet with the Undergraduate Teaching Coordinator to discuss their options and path forward.

- c. Describe steps to be taken to allow students enrolled in the program, site or delivery mode to complete their courses of study.

Currently, three students are enrolled in the Soil and Land Development plan. The students will be given the opportunity to switch into the revised Natural Resources – Soil, Water, and Land Use subplan. Alternatively, the students will have until June 2024 (Term: 2246) to complete the Soil and Land development degree. Come Term 2246, if the students have not completed their degree, they will be moved into Natural Resources – Soil, Water, and Land Use.

3. Discuss the reassignment of any faculty, staff and EHRA non-faculty, including number of each type of personnel to be reassigned.

No faculty, staff or EHRA non-faculty have been or will be reassigned.

4. Discuss the discontinuation of the employment of any faculty, staff and EHRA non-faculty, including number of each type of personnel to be discontinued.

No faculty, staff or EHRA non-faculty have had or will have their employment discontinued.

5. Discuss reallocation or reduction of costs resulting from each discontinuation(s), including specific amounts related to each discontinuation.

Efforts related to the Soil and Land Development degree have already been reallocated to the enhancement of the Natural Resources – Soil, Water, and Land Use program.

6. Name, title, telephone, and e-mail of contact person for this notification of discontinuation:

Memorandum

To: Dr. Michael D. Mullen, Vice Chancellor and Dean of the Division of Academic and Student Affairs
From: Travis Park, Department of Agricultural and Human Sciences, Undergraduate Teaching Coordinator
Date: 05 February 2019
RE: Discontinuing 11EXTEDBS

Justification: The Department of Agricultural and Human Sciences requests the discontinuation of the Extension Education major (11EXTEDBS) and its two subplans (11EXTEDAEX and 11EXTEDAEX). This major has experienced perennially low enrollments. At present, only one CALS faculty remains to deliver the courses in the major. Going forward, it is our assessment that prospective extension agents across North Carolina are better served by majoring in one of the other CALS content areas (i.e. horticulture, animal science, etc.) and minoring in Extension Education, which currently exists.

Impact on the Classification: CIP Codes will not be affected by this change.

Impact on Other Programs: Other programs will not be affected by this change.

Impact on Future Students: Effective immediately, the Department requests the University cease admitting students into the Extension Education major as freshmen or transfers. We also ask that it be removed immediately as an option for CODA.

Impact on Current Students: Currently, 12 students are enrolled in the major and 2 additional students have been admitted to start August 2019. Six of students will graduate in May or August 2019. Five other students should graduate in May 2020, with the remaining one current undergraduate to graduate in 2021. With the on-going Extension Education Minor, we will continue to offer the necessary courses that will enable an on-time graduation for these remaining students.

Proposed Effective Date: January 1, 2020 (or earlier if possible)

Sincerely,

Travis Park
Associate Professor

2. Explain why the program, site, or delivery mode is being discontinued.
- a. If the program, site or delivery mode addresses high priority needs, how will those needs be addressed by other programs?

Program does not address a high priority need.
  - b. Describe how affected parties (faculty, staff, students) will be informed of the impending closure and, where applicable, of any additional charges/expenses to students.

No faculty, staff, or EHRA non-faculty have had or will have their employment discontinued.

5. Discuss reallocation or reduction of costs resulting from each discontinuation(s), including specific amounts related to each discontinuation.

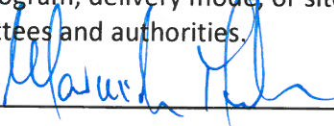

Recruitment and advising efforts from 11EXTEDBS will be reallocated to the Extension Education Minor and delivery of graduate courses in the master's degree in Agricultural and Extension Education. The current .65 FTE of academic programs related to the 11EXTEDBS will be reallocated to the Extension Education Minor and graduate courses in AEE.

Designation of Time Limited Option for Distinguished Professorships

Background: Donors who endow a distinguished professorship at NC State University may elect to pursue matching funds available through the state's Distinguished Professors Endowment Trust Fund (DPETF). In accordance with state statutes, as well as University of North Carolina system and NC State University policies, the NC State University Board of Trustees (BoT) is authorized to designate that endowed distinguished professorships seeking DPETF matching funds may be time limited.

We request this designation from the BoT when a donor agreement indicates intent that a distinguished professorship be awarded, or potentially awarded, at a rank other than professor (i.e. assistant, associate professor) and/or for a period other than an individual's full career.

This designation provides the university with the maximum flexibility in awarding the distinguished professorship over time. Still, the overwhelming majority of NC State's distinguished professorships are offered to professors for the duration of their career at NC State.

Recommended Action: We request designation of the following distinguished professorships which may be time limited:

1. Randall B. Terry, Jr. Distinguished Professorship in Regenerative Medicine, College of Veterinary Medicine, $1.5M endowment

Development of the University's affirmative action and equal employment opportunity plan (the "AA/EEO Plan") at NC State, is assigned to the Vice Provost for Institutional Equity and Diversity, who serves as the university's Affirmative Action Officer.

7.2 The head of each administrative or academic unit, and subunits as identified by the Affirmative Action Officer, shall be responsible for working with the Affirmative Action Officer to implement the requirements of the AA/EEO Plan.

7.3 All University publications, job advertisements, prime federal contracts and subcontracts, purchase orders, and publicity for University events must state that NC State is an AA/EEO employer. Approved taglines and clauses for these purposes are located on the OIED webpage.

NC State recognizes that it cannot and should not take responsibility for every decision made about alcohol by members of the NC State community. Rather, what it seeks to do is create a positive environment in which to make those decisions.

7.2 The use of alcohol at events on the campus of NC State must conform to the applicable laws of North Carolina, City of Raleigh, and NC State policies and regulations.

7.3 Alcohol education and training programs which include, but are not limited to the use, misuse, and non-use of alcoholic beverages, the effects of alcohol on the body, and the cultural, social, economic and legal aspects of alcohol will be made available to the NC State community. All NC State departments and units that conduct events involving the service of alcoholic beverages are strongly encouraged to take advantage of these programs.

7.4 Games or contests which reward the capacity to consume large amounts of alcohol or consume it quickly are prohibited. Alcoholic beverages, including kegs or cases of beer, shall not be provided as awards to individual students or student organizations.

7.5 Except as required by law, regulation or ordinance, no person shall be denied access to any event where alcohol is served on the basis of age. NC State does not encourage the violation of the drinking age law, but wishes to ensure that no person shall be prohibited from attending an event or participating fully in the program benefits offered, within the limits of the law, solely on the basis of his or her age.

Graduate Certificate in Computer Science

Program Justification

The Computer Science (CSC) department proposes to offer a Graduate Certificate Program (GCP) in Computer Science (CSC). This program is primarily intended for individuals who wish to increase their knowledge and skills in Computer Science either for future career opportunities or in preparation for graduate studies. Students who complete the certificate will gain in-depth knowledge in Computer Science concepts, methods and tools. We anticipate that professionals interested in the CSC GCP will enroll as distance education students through Engineering Online (EOL). Many Computer Science courses are already being offered through EOL as part of the existing Master of Computer Science distance education degree program.

Program Objectives

1. In this certificate program, students will learn advanced concepts, methods and tools of Computer Science and apply them to a variety of computational problems and tasks.
2. The certificate program will provide an educational experience that satisfies the expectations of its graduates.

Program of Study

The CSC GCP requires a total of 12 credit hours of graduate-level Computer Science courses taken for a grade. There is no prescribed list of courses for the certificate; students may take a combination of courses tailored to their interests and needs, subject to course prerequisites. The following courses are regularly offered online and would be available to both on-campus and distance students; all other Computer Science graduate courses are available to on-campus students.

CSC 501 – Operating Systems Principles
CSC 505 – Design and Analysis of Algorithms
CSC 506 – Architecture of Parallel Computers
CSC 510 – Software Engineering
CSC 517 – Object-Oriented Design and Development
CSC 520 – Artificial Intelligence
CSC 522 – Automated Learning and Data Analysis
CSC 540 – Database Management Concepts and Systems
CSC 555 – Social Computing
CSC 570 – Computer Networks
CSC 573 – Internet Protocols
CSC 574 – Computer and Network Security
CSC 575 – Introduction to Wireless Networking
CSC 579 – Introduction to Computer Performance Modeling
CSC 591 – Special Topics in Computer Science (multiple courses)
CSC 750 – Service-Oriented Computing

Admission Requirements

Students must meet ONE of the following requirements for admission into the CSC Graduate Certificate Program:

- Have a BS degree in Computer Science from a regionally accredited four-year college or university, and have an overall GPA of at least 3.0 on a 4-point scale.
- Have a BS degree in the sciences or engineering from a regionally accredited four-year college or university with an overall GPA of at least 3.0 on a 4-point scale.

Application and Completion Process

An application for acceptance into the GCP is required for all new students. Students must complete the Graduate School application, found at <https://grad.ncsu.edu/apply/>.

New applications will be reviewed at the department/program level.

Registration procedures, registration dates and course availability for each semester can be found on the NCSU Registration and Records webpage at <http://www.ncsu.edu/registrar/>. Additional information regarding the CSC GCP can be found on the Computer Science (<http://www.csc.ncsu.edu>) website. Questions regarding the CSC GCP can be directed to the certificate coordinator. Information regarding Engineering Online can be found at <http://engineeringonline.ncsu.edu>.

Every semester that a student is enrolled in the CSC GCP, all credit hours for which the student is registered will be subject to the Computer Science tuition premium<sup>1</sup>. It is the responsibility of the student to apply for, and receive, the certificate once they have completed the requirements in order for this premium to be removed in subsequent semesters, if the student will be continuing in a degree program that is not subject to tuition premium.

Admission to Other Graduate Programs

Academic success in the CSC GCP might have a strong bearing on admission to a graduate degree program. However, completion of a graduate certificate program in no way guarantees entry into a graduate degree program, which must be done through a separate application process.

Academic Performance Requirements

- The CSC GCP requires a total of 12 credit hours.

<sup>1</sup> Premium tuition is charged based on a student's program of study, not individual courses the student takes, and this policy is outside the department's control. For instance, CSC Masters students pay the CSC premium even if in a given semester they take one, two, or three courses outside the CSC department. Similarly, once a student is admitted to the CSC GCP and the certificate is added to their program of study, they will be charged the premium. Therefore, students are advised to only register for courses that apply towards the completion of the CSC GCP. We plan to include this information on the certificate website so that students make an informed decision.

- To receive a Graduate Certificate, a student must maintain a minimum 3.00 grade point average (GPA) on Graduate Certificate coursework taken at NCSU. All grades on courses taken towards the GCP in courses numbered 500 and above are included in the GPA. Any courses taken at the 400 level and below are not eligible for certificate credit.
- All courses taken for certificate credit must be completed with a grade of “B-” or better.
- All courses at the 500- or 700-level taken for certificate credit must be letter-graded. Credit-only courses cannot be used for certificate credit.
- Transfer credit from other institutions is not allowed for the GCP. All coursework must be registered through NC State University.
- Up to three (3) credit hours of PBS coursework, if not already used in another graduate program, may be transferred into the GCP. All transfer credit must carry a grade of B or better.
- All GCP requirements must be completed within four (4) calendar years, beginning with the date the student commences courses applicable to the GCP. In addition, students must maintain continuous enrollment every semester until all coursework is completed. A one-semester leave of absence may be granted if the student is unable to enroll in a course due to extenuating circumstances. The leave of absence must be approved in writing by the CSC DGP before the start of the semester.

Program Administration

The CSC GCP will be administered by the Director of Graduate Programs in the Department of Computer Science, in cooperation with the NCSU Engineering Online program for distance-education students.

All certificate courses are existing courses in Computer Science. The implementation and presentation of the certificate is not expected to require effort outside the normal academic activities of the course instructors. No additional staff or resources are required to support the administration of this program.

At the completion of the certificate, students will complete an exit survey for the purpose of evaluating the quality of the certificate program and its impact on students. The exit interviews will be conducted by the CSC DGP. The results will be used to inform curricular improvement.

Enrollment Projection

On campus	Yr 1	5	Yr 2	10	Yr 3	15	Yr 4	20
Distance Education	Yr 1	5	Yr 2	10	Yr 3	15	Yr 4	20

These projections are based on (1) discussions with industry members of the Computer Science Strategic Advisory Board and (2) repeated unsolicited requests and questions received by our program, and take into account the different pace of on-campus vs. online students.

Tuition and Fees

The department will seek approval for a tuition structure that is identical to that of the Computer Science Masters program, i.e., that includes the tuition premium. Tuition premium is charged based on the student's program.

Faculty Participants

All faculty who teach graduate-level Computer Science courses will participate in the CSC GCP.

Departments likely to be affected

No other departments are likely to be affected by the proposed graduate certificate.

Outcomes Assessment Plan*Objectives

1. The certificate program will provide a graduate level working knowledge of current Computer Science concepts and methods.
2. The certificate program will provide an educational experience that satisfies the expectations of its graduates.

Outcomes

1. By the time they complete this certificate program, graduates should be able to:
  - Identify and describe the major principles, methods, and tools of one field of Computer Science
  - Apply the methods and tools learned during the certificate studies to tackle computational problems and tasks
  - Use relevant software packages and tools in their own professional activities
2. At the time they complete this certificate program, graduates are expected to:

NC State University Proposal for Graduate Certificate in Renewable Energy Assessment and Development

Introduction

The Department of Forestry and Environmental Resources (FER) at North Carolina State University wishes to establish a graduate certificate program in Renewable Energy Assessment and Development.

The Graduate Certificate in Renewable Energy Assessment and Development is an online graduate-level program that provides students and professionals the opportunity to immerse themselves in theoretical and practical topics relating to the development of renewable energy projects. Additionally, the program guides students in building recognized academic and industry credentials in the renewable energy industry by covering the technical, policy and financial aspects of clean energy project development. This interdisciplinary approach allows students of diverse STEM and non-STEM backgrounds to gain a comprehensive understanding of renewables and be able to better incorporate their professional experience and expertise in this fast-growing industry. The majority of potential applicants for this program would be working professionals who need to improve their knowledge and skills in the new and changing field of renewable energy assessment and development but who are unable to attend courses on campus due to workplace demands. Many students who have already inquired about coursework in the renewable energy assessment field cannot leave employment for an extended period to complete the certificate. They could, however, attain further expertise and credentials through a distance-based certificate program.

The Department of Forestry and Environmental Resources has a 30-credit option B, Master's degree in Environmental Assessment. The EA Master's degree provides students with an understanding of environmental assessment, risk assessment, and the impacts of pollutants on health and the environment. Students in the EA program would benefit from the addition of coursework in the area of renewable energy development. It is anticipated that students in the Renewable Energy Assessment and Development Certificate program who would like further professional growth could choose to apply for the Master's degree in Environmental Assessment. Likewise, it is possible that students in the Master's program could choose to take additional coursework and complete the certificate in renewable energy assessment and development.

A review of the education market reveals a void in this type of university program. A Burning Glass report shows few certificate programs similar to Renewable Energy Assessment and Development nationwide. And while there has been a preponderance of online non-credit bearing renewable energy certificates in the country, such as those offered by Solar Energy International, Everblue Training, HeatSpring, and even NCSU's NC Clean Energy Technology

Center, there are few, if any, online graduate-level programs with a science-based interdisciplinary focus that can also count as partial credit towards a Master's degree.

In 2018, the US Bureau of Labor Statistics (BLS) projected that jobs associated with solar photovoltaics and wind turbines would have the fastest employment growth (105% increase for solar and 96% for Wind turbine) from 2016 - 2026. And despite the 2017 dip in solar installations and labor force, predictions indicate that the growth of renewable energy, particularly solar photovoltaics, is not a fad, but is a pragmatic and necessary part of the energy mix.

Additionally, the 2015-2020 Employment Opportunities for College Graduates in Food, Renewable Energy and the Environment Report indicates shortages of graduates, specifically in the food, agriculture, natural resources and human sciences disciplines to fill the estimated 57,900 annual openings for individuals with baccalaureate or higher degrees in food, renewable energy and environmental specialties between 2015 and 2020.

It is for these reasons that the Department of Forestry and Environmental Resources within the College of Natural Resources is proposing an online graduate certificate program focused on renewable energy assessment development.

Certificate Coordinator

The Graduate Certificate in Renewable Energy Assessment and Development will be coordinated by the Lyra Rakusin in the NC State College of Natural Resources, Department of Forestry and Environmental Resources.

Program Director

The Graduate Certificate in Renewable Energy Assessment and Development will be administered by the Director of Master of Environmental Assessment Program (Linda Taylor) in the NC State College of Natural Resources, Department of Forestry and Environmental Resources.

Renewable Energy Development Faculty

Elizabeth Nichols, Professor
Barry Goldfarb, Professor
Dennis Hazel, Professor
Jordan Kern, Assistant Professor
Lyra Rakusin, Lecturer
Tommy Cleveland, Lecturer
Linda Taylor, Lecturer

Additional faculty may be added to the Renewable Energy Faculty by the Director of the Master of Environmental Assessment Program in the Department of Forestry and Environmental Resources as necessary.

The certificate program will reside in the Department of Forestry and Environmental Resources within the College of Natural Resources. The program director and certificate coordinator will make all admissions decisions in coordination with the Renewable Energy Assessment and Development faculty.

Application Process

Process

Students must apply online through the graduate school application process to participate in the certificate program. <https://applygrad.ncsu.edu/apply/>

Tuition and Fees

Grading

All courses must be taken for a letter grade. No transfer credits from other institutions are allowed for the certificate. To receive the Graduate Certificate, a student must have a minimum 3.00 average on all certificate course work.

Students must receive a C or better in each course to receive certificate credit.

All courses which count towards the certificate must be 500 Level or above.

Completion

All certificate requirements must be completed within four (4) calendar years, beginning with the date the student starts coursework related to the certificate.

Students must apply to graduate from the certificate program. Students may obtain more than one graduate certificate but each certificate must have at least nine(9) credit hours that are unique to it.

Note: Academic success might have a strong bearing on admission to a degree program, but completion of a certificate program in no way guarantees entry into a graduate degree program, which is done through a separate application process.

RENEWABLE ENERGY ASSESSMENT AND DEVELOPMENT GRADUATE CERTIFICATE

Outcomes Assessment Plan

Learning Objectives:

Learning objectives are designed to enhance students' knowledge of information and then synthesize and apply that knowledge at the graduate level.

1. Students will demonstrate knowledge of how financial considerations and regulatory frameworks affect the development of renewable energy projects.
2. Students will demonstrate knowledge of the basic principles of wind, solar, and bioenergy systems across multiple size scales and be able to apply this knowledge to specific sites.
3. Students will demonstrate knowledge of how solar photovoltaic systems function and be able to apply this knowledge to installation of a solar system on particular sites.
4. Students will demonstrate knowledge of the design and function of electricity storage systems from renewable energy sites and recommend best practices for the operation and maintenance of said system.

Learning Outcomes and Methods and Schedule of Assessment:

Each of the four courses in the certificate has one overall learning objective and two specific learning outcomes. All outcomes will be measured by instructor rating of students' ability to synthesize information based on performance on the capstone project. Learning objectives and associated outcomes will be assessed in alternate years.

Learning Outcome	Assessment Method	Assessment Schedule
Objective 1- Students will demonstrate knowledge of how financial considerations and regulatory frameworks affect the development of renewable energy projects.
Outcome 1a. Students will be able to determine the economic feasibility of a renewable energy project.	Instructor rating of students' performance on capstone project (percentage rated as excellent, good, fair and poor)	Even numbered academic years
Outcome 1b. Students will demonstrate knowledge of how local, national and global policies affect renewable energy development.	Instructor rating of students' performance on capstone project (percentage rated as excellent, good, fair and poor)	Even numbered academic years
Objective 2 - Students will demonstrate knowledge of the basic principles of wind, solar, and bioenergy systems across multiple size scales and be able to apply this knowledge to specific sites.
Outcome 2a. Students will be able to assess a site for wind, solar, or bioenergy production.	Instructor rating of students' performance on capstone project (percentage rated as excellent, good, fair and poor)	Odd numbered academic years
Outcome 2b. Students will be able to evaluate the sustainability of renewable energy systems.	Instructor rating of students' performance on capstone project (percentage rated as excellent, good, fair and poor)	Odd numbered academic years

Objective 3 - Students will demonstrate knowledge of how solar photovoltaic systems function and be able to apply this knowledge to installation of a solar system on particular sites.
Outcome 3a. Students will demonstrate knowledge of the design and function of photovoltaic systems.	Instructor rating of students' performance on capstone project (percentage rated as excellent, good, fair and poor)	Even numbered academic years
Outcome 3b. Students will be able to apply their knowledge of photovoltaic systems to determine the economic and environmental viability of a solar project.	Instructor rating of students' performance on capstone project (percentage rated as excellent, good, fair and poor)	Even numbered academic years
Objective 4 - Students will demonstrate knowledge of the design and function of electricity storage systems from renewable energy sites and recommend best practices for the operation and maintenance of said system.
Outcome 4a. Students will demonstrate knowledge of storage systems and the components of ongoing operations and maintenance programs.	Instructor rating of students' performance on capstone project (percentage rated as excellent, good, fair and poor)	Odd numbered academic years
Outcome 4b. Students will be able to apply their knowledge of storage, operations and maintenance to design and recommend a plan for a particular renewable energy project.	Instructor rating of students' performance on capstone project (percentage rated as excellent, good, fair and poor)	Odd numbered academic years

Statement of Other Departments Likely to be Affected and Summary of Consultations with those Departments

The certificate application and course action forms for the 4 EA Renewable Energy Assessment and Development have been sent to the Academic Affairs Deans in other colleges for consultations. In addition, meetings have been held with specific faculty in other departments, including Dr. Joseph DeCarolus, Civil and Environmental Engineering and Dr. Robert Mera, Marine Earth and Atmospheric Sciences. In addition, we have been working with Dr Tim Petty and other staff with DELTA on the development of this program. DELTA is supporting the program, and there is an MOU between DELTA and FER which includes the approval of the courses and certificate program.

Comments from COE: Dr Douglas Reeves, Associate Dean of Graduate Programs

Thanks for circulating this information. The feedback from the ECE department is that this is much more pragmatic, practitioner-oriented approach than their courses, so I don't think this is undue overlap with what they do. Your students might benefit from being aware of ECE452 / ECE552 Renewable Electric Energy Systems, and ECE585 The Business of the Electric Utility Industry.

Comments for CALS: Dr John Classen, Director of Graduate Programs (Bio and Ag Engineering)

Gary,

I have reviewed the proposed certificate and the course action forms for the four proposed courses. Nothing here duplicates or overlaps our offerings in any meaningful way. A few of our graduate students may be interested in 1 or 2 of the courses but I would not expect any significant SCHs to be generated from our students. Good luck with the program.

Best regards,
John Classen

Comments from CALS: Xiaoyong Zheng, Director Graduate Programs (Ag and Resource Economics)

Dear Gary,

We reviewed your proposal and here are our comments:

1. The certificate and courses do not overlap with any graduate level courses that the Economics graduate programs offer.
2. Some students in our master's program may be interested in taking some of the courses proposed as electives.

Best,
Xiaoyong

Comments from COS: Dr Robert Mera, Coordinator, Climate Change & Society Program

I can see one or two classes that would be appropriate for our students. We require 1 elective and the EA courses would fit some of our students' direction

Undergraduate Certificate in the Essentials of Business—Attachments

Statement of Justification: When new graduates enter the workforce, they quickly realize the importance of understanding how a business works and how people interact to help the business be successful. Such understanding also helps them advance within a company.

It currently can be difficult for a non-PCOM student to gain this knowledge while an undergraduate, largely due to semesters which already are consumed addressing the student's core program. Another hurdle is the fact that desired business classes often are not available to non-business students during the fall and spring semesters. We recognize challenges with course availability during the regular academic year thus the creation of this new certificate program as a summer only program. We are designing the program for maximum flexibility and to allow us to provide as much access to students as possible

This Certificate addresses both needs, by providing a 4-course core set of topics, delivered:

1. During the Summer (no conflict with a student's core program),
2. In an on-line format (allows work around summer jobs or other conflicts)

During the Spring 2018 Semester, about 88% of NC State's undergraduate population was in a College other than Business<sup>1</sup>. This population is the target audience.

Statement of Program Objectives: Students who earn the Certificate will:

1. Be able to identify the primary business functions, including the attributes which make each function important.
2. Gain practice in the ways which business processes operate, and be able identify strengths and weaknesses of a process within a Company.
3. Show proficiency in two core areas:
  - a. Business Essentials (placeholder number = BUS295)
  - b. Introduction to Financial and Managerial Accounting (ACC280)
4. Gain additional proficiency in two selected topics. Choices include:
  - a. HR (MIE330)
  - b. Marketing (BUS360)
  - c. Operations Management (BUS370)
  - d. Personal Finance (BUS225)
  - e. Individual Income Tax (ACC230)

Statement of Proposed Revision with Reasons: Not applicable—new Program.

<sup>1</sup>According to the Office of Institutional Research and Planning , there were 23,332 undergraduate students in the Spring 2018 semester, with 2865 in the Poole College of Management.

Statement of Program Requirements:

1. Four courses of 3 semester hours:
  - a. Requirement One: Two required core courses:
    - i. BUS 280 Business Essentials
    - ii. ACC280: Introduction to Financial and Managerial Accounting
  - b. Requirement Two: Two elective courses selected from this list:
    - i. MIE330: Human Resource Management
    - ii. BUS360: Marketing Methods
    - iii. BUS370: Operations Management
    - iv. BUS225: Personal Finance
    - v. ACC230: Uses of Accounting Information
2. There are no other required examinations, presentations, or external learning experiences.
3. A total of 12 semester hours is required.
4. Satisfactory completion of the certificate program requires:
  - a. completion of the coursework noted above
  - b. a grade of D- or better in all courses used to satisfy the certificate requirements
  - c. an overall GPA of 2.0 or better for all courses used to satisfy the certificate requirements

Description: This Certificate is designed for the non-business undergraduate student who realizes that an understanding of business is essential for success in the workplace. It recognizes that the student's regular academic program often does not accommodate additional courses during the Fall or Spring semesters.

There are two required 3 unit courses covering business essentials and financial/managerial accounting. The student then selects two 3 unit courses from the following:

Human Resource Management
Marketing Methods
Operations Management
Personal Finance
Uses of Accounting Information

Courses are offered in an online format during Summer sessions. This is to avoid conflict with a possible summer job or other activities.

Number of Certificate recipients in the past five years: None—new Program

Projected Enrollment: 400 students over a five-year period

Admissions Requirements: A student must have a minimum of a 2.0 grade point average to be accepted into this program. The application deadline is 60 days prior to the date of the first course the student wishes to take.

The Program coordinator is:

Tamah Morant
Associate Dean, Undergraduate Programs

Statement on Other Departments/Programs Likely to be Affected and Summary of

Consultations: No other Programs/Departments will be negatively affected. This Program is a complement to a student's core program.
